

About Karen Cogan

My style is impressionism and expressionism. My media is mostly oil. I try to capture memories of places I've visited as well as places I dream of visiting. I love creating works paintings for others to keep their special dreams and memories alive as well. I began painting in 2010. I paint cityscapes, landscapes, still life, and portraits. I realize the profound change painting has had in my life. My work can be seen at some of the following venues.
