

Ruby's Guide Photography

“The World Through My Eyes...”

RUBY PACHECO ▪ Ruby is a California nature photographer. Her work is noted for bold colors; enhancing dramatic nature scenes. She is often told by clients that her photographs evoke strong emotions in them.

Ruby's love for nature began as a child on her family's large Central California ranch, where she was surrounded by animals, acres of crops, clear water and blue skies. Observing the outdoors developed her creativity and Faith.

Ruby has been a professional photographer since 2014. Now living in Folsom, California with her husband David, and two feisty maltipoos, she dedicates her attention to photography full-time. Ruby's work is greatly influenced by her favorite painter, Christian Jequel. She has sold her work primarily in the U.S. and Europe.

Ruby has been a featured artist in galleries, magazines and catalogs. She has received numerous honorable mention awards in International Photography Competitions. Her photography has been on display at the Harris Center Bank of America Gallery, the Community Gallery at 48 Natoma, and has been included in the Crocker Art Museum's "Big Names, Small Art" event.

Ruby's photography is currently on permanent display at Fawnridge Winery in Auburn, California. She is a member of the Folsom Arts Association and The Center for Photographic Art in Carmel, California.

After receiving her BA in English from UC Davis in 1986, Ruby worked in advertising and marketing management for high-tech companies in the San Francisco Bay Area. She received her Law Degree from Santa Clara University in 2002.

“I hope you are inspired by my photography as you see the world through my eyes.”
